Every package of food must have the following information on its label:

- The common and usual name of the product.
- The name and street address, including city and zip code, of the manufacturer or distributor.
- The net weight.
- A list of ingredients in the order of their prevalence.
- The common name of the food source of each of the eight major food allergens contained in the product, including:
  - (A) Milk;
  - (B) egg;
  - (C) the specific type of each fish, such as anchovy or tuna;
  - (D) the specific type of crustacean shellfish, such as crab or lobster;
  - (E) peanuts;
  - (F) the specific type of each tree nut, such as walnut or pecan;
  - (G) wheat; or
  - (H) soybeans.
- A qualifying statement like “Manufactured for” or “Distributed by”, as applicable.
- Nutrition facts, unless exempted.

Required information must be printed in type of sufficient size and prominence to be easily read under the normal conditions of sale and display. This information should be printed on the main part of the label in a color that contrasts with its background.

Required information must be in English.

The term "package" means any food that has been put into a bottle, can, carton, bag, or secure wrapper, by either a food establishment or a food processing plant, before it is offered for wholesale or retail sale.